

Press Release : Post Vending Paris 2017

A special thanks to all who visited SandenVendo stand (Hall 5.1 Stand No. D51) during the Vending Paris Show in Paris, France.

Vending Paris is a highly professional and busy show, which considered one of the biggest show in Europe for this business sector. Since it is biannual and alternating with Venditalia, there were countless visitors. Approx. 1000 French operators were present therefore, it also attracts foreign people (especially from Maghreb).

The SandenVendo booth was constantly crowded with full of customers and incredibly busy throughout the exhibition period.

All the new products presented by SandenVendo attracted huge numbers of operators who were pleased to discover these new technologies.

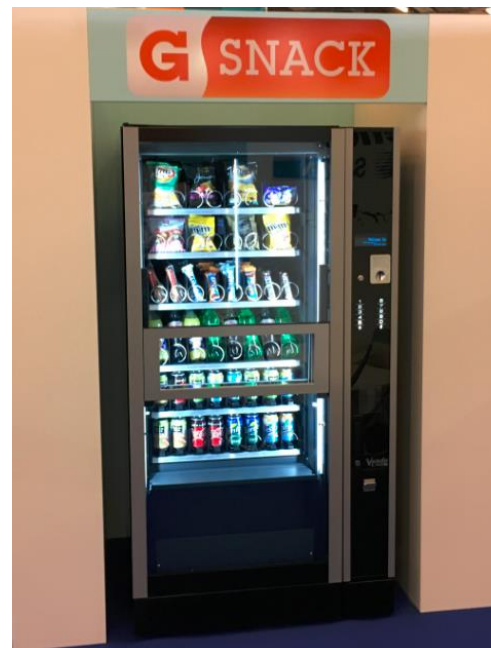

SandenVendo exhibited the company's latest development of the new Table Top Coffee machine, with the SandenVendo Coffee brewer which delivers authentic espresso flavors and aromas in a way the Italians do best. The machine integrates the innovative and patented water injection system for the mixer, a precise temperature management with the lowest possible energy consumption, the new ingredient canisters and much more stunning patented novelties.

As an insight to the future vending system, SandenVendo presented an innovative concept bringing an evolution in its G-Snack range. The new G-Snack EVOLUTION has a capacious central delivery eyelet providing an ergonomic yet an attractive design. It is developed by first considering thoroughly the well-being of the end users.

SandenVendo's new sales manager Stéphane BOURDIN comments:

"We bring today new solutions which had never seen before... Thanks to our innovations, we had a real success. We had been very busy and our booth was continuously full of customers and prospects. We had the chance to have the visit of our COO Yoshitoyo Takeuchi and to introduce our new team to the customers! To summarize, it was a really good show for SandenVendo!"
